Janet Swinton of the United World College recently made a generous donation of her late husband's golf cart to the Luna Community College Foundation. The Luna Community College Foundation Board would like to thank Mrs. Swinton for such a generous gift. Pictured are: LCC Foundation Executive Director Sarah Flores Janet Swinton and her granddaughter.

The Luna Community College spring schedule of classes is now available online at www.luna.edu. Hard-copy schedules are also available. The first day of spring classes begin on Monday, Jan. 12. The last day to add classes is Tuesday, Jan. 20.

LCC will be closed from Monday, Dec. 22 through Friday, Jan. 2

Luna Community College furniture and cabinet making instructor Albert Padilla stands by several projects his students worked on this semester. The first is a bench made by Jerry Gallegos; the second is a child's chair made by Susanna Gonzales and the third is a picture frame made by Michael Arguello. Padilla said he will teach a similar class from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays in the spring semester. Among some of the other projects Padilla's students made were: counter tops, closets, wood boxes, cedar chests and television stands.

For more information on furniture and cabinet making, please call Padilla at 505/617-1631.

Jason Maes from Performance Tools out of Albuquerque demonstrates a nitro-fuser plastic welder to Luna Community College students, recently. A nitro-fuser is a state-of-the-art plastic welding system. Pictured are students from the welding, auto collision and auto technology department. Events such as this one assists Luna Community College instructors to keep their students up-to-date with the latest in technology.

Holiday Baking

Saturday, Dec. 13, 2014 9 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Location: Instructional Program Center, Culinary Arts Lab

Instructor: Adrienne O'Brien Cost: $20 tuition + $20 materials fee

Get a jump on your holiday baking and add to your family's list of favorite holiday treats! At Luna's Holiday Baking class, students will be greeted with hot mulled cider and learn to prepare rose-flavored French fruit jellies, decorate buttery shortbread cookies, bake rich Italian Panettone and create chewy Honey/Almond Turrone. To top it all off, students will make the traditional French Bûche de Noël (French Yule Log cake). Students take their creations home at the end of the class session to share with friends and family.

Mike Thomas (light beige shirt) from Rocky Mountain Testing was at Luna Community College recently to certify students through American Welding Society (AWS). Three of seven students passed the test. A re-test will be conducted in February. AWS is a multifaceted, nonprofit organization with a goal to advance the science, technology and application of welding and related joining disciplines. According to LCC Welding Instructor, Donnie Adkins, students that earn their AWS certification "can apply and get work anywhere in the welding industry." Pictured (l-r) are: James Leger, Aaron Thomas, LCC Welding Instructor Donnie Adkins, Brandon Chavez, Thomas, Anthony Martinez, Frank Dominguez, Karl Sanchez, Mike Jaramillo and Curtis Johnson. For more information on the LCC Welding Program, call 505/454-2530.

After 15 years as an automotive technology instructor at Luna Community College and 40 years in the field of education, Tom Nitznski (fourth from the left) is retiring. Nitznski says that he "enjoyed working at Luna Community College" and that he will "miss the students the most." Pictured (l-r) are Auto Technology Instructor Paul Vance, Vocational Education Director Gary Martinez, Office Manager Karen Wezwick, Nitznski, Automotive Technology Instructor Gene Sandoval, Electrical Instructor Lorenzo Barraza, Automotive Technology Instructor Dennis Fresquez, LCC student Karl Sanchez, Collision Repair Instructor Anthony Baca and Welding Instructor Donnie Adkins.
