MCT Founder Ted Martinez to speak at LCC graduation

The following is a story in Ted Martinez' own words. He is the founder and CEO of MCT Industries Inc.

Two hundred dollars and a welding machine—that's all this 23 year old young man from Trujillo had to start a business. Yes I remember like it was yesterday—the day I came home from a good paying, stable job as a welder and told my newlywed wife from Garita of two years (who happened to be eight months pregnant) "I quit my job"! "Why would you do that," was her heated response. I said, "to start my own business." From that moment on I never looked back. I took the side jobs I did at night and on weekends after working 50-60 hours at my welding job, and turned that into enough work for my first three employees that I hired 41 years ago. I learned the fundamentals of supplying my co-workers with enough training, raw materials, and support to create assembly lines of quality products that satisfied my customers.

Today, I still get up between 4 a.m. and 5 a.m. and put in at least 12 hours a day overseeing production lines that produce vehicles to transport nuclear materials, transporters for radar systems, and Air Force maintenance platforms that service many Air Force aircraft including the President's plane Air Force One. One of the greatest privileges I have had is leading our team of dedicated employees that at its height was 250 people.

quired to fulfill your individual potential. Like I've always told my treasured children and grandchildren: "Reach for the stars, and even if you fall short and land on the moon, well you have still done exceptionally well."

I'm grateful for the opportunity to serve as Luna Community College's commencement speaker. My hope is that my story will inspire you to exceed my journey and catch your own star. After all, if this little boy from Trujillo can beat the odds, surely each and every one of you can and WILL journey to stars only you can imagine.

The Luna Community College Graduation Ceremony will take place at 10 a.m. on Saturday, May 10. The processional line up begins at 9 a.m. on that day. Rehearsal will take place at 2 p.m. on Friday, May 9. Congratulations to the LCC Class of 2014.

Luna Community College was one of eight entities and the only institution of higher learning to receive a Piñon Performance Excellent Award at the 2014 Quality New Mexico Learning Summit and New Mexico Performance Excellence Awards Ceremony recently in Albuquerque.

It is the second consecutive year that LCC received a Piñon Award.

Quality New Mexico is non-profit organization that engages in activities which seek to educate New Mexicans about quality and encourage and reward quality in business, education and other sectors.

Gov. Susana Martinez was on-hand and presented the award to LCC Board Chairman Abelino Montoya Jr. and STEM faculty Betsy Sanchez and Nichole Collins.

"It's a tribute to our administration and staff that they are taking on another level of quality process through the Baldrige system," said Montoya Jr. who spoke at the event. "This adds a little more work, but the results will be tremendous for the school. The entire country's educational system is falling into the Baldrige plan and Luna Community College has taken these great steps."

Montoya Jr. will be serving on the Quality New Mexico Board of Directors effective June 1.

Since 1994 the New Mexico Performance Excellence Awards Program has recognized businesses and organizations on their "Path to Performance Excellence". The 'Path' is a formal improvement journey for any sector organization. The Program provides New Mexico with three levels of organizational assessment, written feedback with strengths and opportunities for continued improvement, and public recognition.

By earning the Piñon Award for the second time, Luna Community College has shown that it is identifying and using systematic processes and collecting data to reflect early results in areas of most importance. In addition, Luna Community College has described its approaches for and deployment of its key operational processes. It has also identified its evaluation and improvement activities or processes, and has shown coordination among organizational units.

Alta Vista Regional Hospital received the Compañero Award at the Quality New Mexico Conference for its continued mentoring and hands-on education that it provides to the college's nursing students.

New Mexico's quality initiative started in 1991 and the quality awards program has been ongoing for over 20 years. Quality New Mexico's mission is to drive performance excellence in New Mexico organizations by providing role models, tools, knowledge, learning experiences and best practices.

The college will now strive to reach the Roadrunner level where it has to demonstrate the commitment and implementation of quality principles and show substantive progress in building sound and systematic processes.

LCC Board Member David Gutierrez speaks on tuition

The following was written by Luna Community College Board Member David Gutierrez. Mr. Gutierrez is the chairman of the Education Committee.

I would like to highlight my position on tuition increase. Honestly, I'm not trying to advocate the increase at this particular moment. My intents are to gather information and see if it would be feasible at this time to increase the tuition slightly as well as implementing lab fees that would sustain many of our Title V licenses as well as many of the vocational labs, nursing, dental and cosmetology departments.

Here are some of my points about the situation: (1) Affordability—community colleges remain the most affordable sector of higher education with minimal or no debt for students. However, tuition and fees at community colleges are largely outside of the institution's control, as state and local funding cuts have escalated these costs 29 percent in just five years. In order to gain a more accurate picture of affordability rat-

Honestly, I'm not trying to advocate the increase at this particular moment. What my intents are to gather information and see if it would be feasible at this time to increase the tuition slightly as well as implementing lab fees that would sustain many of our Title V licenses as well as many of the vocational labs, nursing, dental and cosmetology departments.

ings, we should also evaluate student loan debts based on the median debt load of all competitors at an institution.

(2) Online courses need to be built with objectives that build self direction and self motivation. We have to think about all the different pathways the students on campus are seeking, such as blended learning or massive open online courses. But the ecosystem we create and how technology fits into the picture falls back on funding. This is one reason I feel we need to at least implement a technology fee that would sustain the way we provide instruction and teach today's students.

I also understand that the economy here in northeastern New Mexico is at a low point, but if a student is really interested in obtaining an education they will find the means to pay for their education. In all respect, I would appreciate feedback with some rhyme or reason to increase or not.

To contact Mr. Gutierrez e-mail him at specogutierrez@yahoo.com.

Luna Community College's Angie (Fereshteh) Manafy and Science Class students recently toured the National Wildlife Refuge. The field trip was organized in conjunction with research regarding the environment and biodiversity.

Remembering Maria

Maria Helena Flores Paiz, Executive Office Manager, Luna Community College

By Dr. Pete Campos
LCC President

Six years ago Maria and I began our professional journey together in the Office of the President at Luna Community College. When I arrived, Maria was already a keenly knowledgeable and experienced executive office manager who had served with several past presidents. She also served as the Board of Trustees office contact and official meeting coordinator, provider of institutional knowledge, and transcriber. These duties among others required great responsibility and efficiency. Maria always provided expeditious, accurate and professional responses to Trustees, Presidents, faculty, staff, students, community members and national, state, and local dignitaries.

Magnificent	Honest	Forgiving	Professional
Accountable	Excellence	Logical	Articulate
Resourceful	Loyal	Organized	Insightful
Incredible	Expert	Reliable	Zeal
Achiever	Nice	Enlightening
	Adaptable	Smart

Maria's daily schedule was never the same. She would: arrive at work carrying her shoulder briefcase filled with LCC paperwork, wish everyone a good morning, settle in behind her desk, remove her confidential documents from her shoulder briefcase, turn on her computer and begin the day. Within minutes after setting up for the day, there were phone messages and e-mails to review and listen to and then respond to; students, staff, and community members would immediately come in posing questions to Maria about how to process paperwork, where to find an instructor and asking to set-up a meeting with the President.

That was usually how the first 30 minutes of the day got started. Then the unexpected would follow, someone needed information quickly, a community member needed to be accommodated as soon as possible, and the phone calls began – they were usually people wanting their issues addressed as soon as possible. Regardless of the combination of activities flowing through the President's office, Maria always had a way of multi-tasking and meeting the needs of those who relied on her because she provided a positive and professional demeanor, steady confidence, accurate responses, and a real can-do attitude that was at the base of requests. People relied on and liked the way Maria took care of business.

As the day wore on, Maria scheduled more meetings, more issues requiring attention were addressed, and the fast clatter of the keys on her computer keyboard seemed to turn into a harmony of symphonic music. Still the phone would ring, people would stop by her desk and say, Maria, I need a signature from the President - can you get it for me? Sure enough, Maria would carefully review the documentation, if the paperwork was in order, she would use her know how to secure the signature, and get people on their way so they would calmly, assuredly, and successfully complete their task.

Then, 5 p.m. would come, most employees were packing up for the day and saying goodbye to Maria. She would respond; I hope you have a good night, see you tomorrow. While others were headed home to their families, Maria was preparing to get to the work she needed to finish that day. You see, during the day, she was taking care of the needs of others and leaving her work until the needs of others had been met. That's how unselfish Maria was. She never complained, kept on task, and sometime during the evening finished her work for the day.

But it didn't end there. That was the everyday unexpected work! There was so much of her work that was confidential in nature. It dealt with reviewing documents for approval by the President (she was working on her own time to finish certification as a legal assistant); coordinating the Reaffirmation for Accreditation self-study to post on the WEB, and ensuring the paperwork essential to the successful operation of LCC was meticulously completed.

Remembering Maria...

Maria was a confidant, a person I wholeheartedly trusted. We dealt with highly sensitive documentation and situations that affected the efficient operations of Luna Community College. She never let the college down, even if it took long hours to complete the work needed to support the College.

Maria lived her life for Larry; her parents, Ramon and Helen Flores; other family members; pet, Dakota; and, the entire Luna Community College family. I saw Maria give her life to Luna so students would have an educational opportunity they otherwise may not have had. Maria left Luna Community College a better place for all of us. May her life not have been in vain; let's carry on in Maria's memory to help each other and make our college the best it can be.

Maria Helena Paiz

The Luna Community College family is invited to attend a gathering at noon on Thursday, May 1 at the Luna Community College AHEC Building to begin planning the honoring of Maria's life.

“The People’s College”

Several LCC models participated in last week’s 10th Annual Hair Show. The Hair Show also participates in the Locks of Love. Locks of Love is a Palm Springs-based national charity that takes donated human hair tied into ponytails or braided and makes it into special hairpieces for financially disadvantaged children who have lost their hair because of medical conditions.

Weekend scores

The Luna Community College baseball team lost to Midland College 2-12, 3-13, 12-15, 7-9 Record: 16-31, 12-20
 The Luna Community College softball team lost to Midland College 1-11, 3-6, 9-10, 5-13 Record: 16-28, 12-16

Notes: The softball team qualified for the conference post-season tournament for the second straight year. The top six of eight teams advance. They are currently fourth. The baseball team is still mathematically eligible for post-season. The top four of 10 teams advance to the tournament.
