

Luna Community College's Title V Mission:

"Developing a comprehensive online learning network for rural, time and place-bound students."

MAY 2010

VOLUME 3 ISSUE 6

Who's Who For Year 3 Pilot Courses

On May 27, 2010, year 3 training began for eight Luna Community College faculty members who will be participating in Title V piloted courses. Larry Paiz geared the training which highlighted the areas in the Blackboard system. These consisted of the course tools needed for implementation of each course being developed: the mail, calendar, assignments, chat, discussions, learning modules, media library, syllabus, web link, who's online, and goals icons are all course tools that will assist the faculty.

Classes that will be developed and piloted beginning Fall 2010 are:

- History of New Mexico HIST220
- Spanish I SPAN101
- Cultures of the World ANTH221
- Into to Anthropology ANTH 103
- Intermediate Algebra MATH116
- American Literature I ENG204
- Adult Nursing I NRS224
- Pharmacotherapeutic Interventions III NRS254

A new requirement will be the PLATO implementation for online developmental courses. This will provide supplemental instruction for reinforcement of basic skills. The recording studio initiative will also be required as a tool for recording lectures for online delivery. Weekly collaboration time will provide feedback for the reinforcement of online courses.

Year 3 Faculty Training
May 27, 2010

LCC faculty participants (top—bottom): James Beil, Dan Gonzales, Charles Peterson, R. Maxine Hughes, Connie Reichert, Carlos Martinez, Juan Carlos Fulgenzi, John Lopez, Sharon Holguin, and Dan Selph.

Point to Ponder:

TEAM = Together Everyone Achieves More

Special Thanks To:

Elaine Luna, Ron Duran and the Office of Admissions and Recruitment for contributing the door prizes for the Title V training.

Title V Staff

- Lorraine Martinez, Project Director
- Michelle Bencomo, Administrative Assistant
- Larry Paiz, Instructional Designer
- John Tiernan, Online Student Services Developer
- Rick Roybal, Distance Education Technician