Liability Release

Assumption of Risk: The events and activities of Luna programs have certain inherent risks. While it is impossible to predict with certainty all of the potential risks that may be encountered, you should be aware of the risks specifically described below. Your signature on this document indicates that you have made the determination that your child has the maturity and ability both physical and mental, to safely participate in their chosen activity (with or without disability accommodation). Your Student's participation is voluntary and by allowing your child to participate, you are acknowledging that the risks of the activities are acceptable to you. You understand and acknowledge that Luna Community College, as well as other partners, do not provide medical insurance for participants and that you will be financially responsible for any injury or illness occurring during the event or activities. It is further understood that youth ages 13 or older may have designated unsupervised activities and are expected to adhere to specific instructions and follow all expectations as outlined in Luna's Code of Conduct.

Possible Risks:

- The carelessness or dangerous actions of other participants in activities or programs
- The possibility of unknown or unrecognized defects or hazards in equipment or facilities
- The hazards of unpredictable weather conditions and natural disasters
- Participants' disregard of instructions, directives, and rules.
- Participants' failure to wear or utilize personal protective equipment as provided or required for participation
- Ordinary injuries inherent in physical activity or group play
- Injuries resulting from the inherent risks in participating in an activity involving animals
- Illnesses associated with close contact with other participants or event supervisors

I hereby release Luna Community College and its instructional and supervising staff, and any affiliates involved, the owners/operators of any property where activities occur, from liability in the event of illness, injury or loss occurring to myself or my personal belongings, and will make no claim as a result thereof.
