Many online courses being offered for fall 2013 semester

Have you ever thought about taking an online course. Perhaps Luna Community College is the school that can provide this. Luna Community College is offering many online courses for the fall semester and employees are available that will help you along the way.

The school year begins on Monday, Aug. 19 and the last day to register is Monday, Aug. 26.

LCC currently offers one degree—Business Administration—that you can earn fully online.

To get started on your way to taking online courses, a student has to be admitted into the college. Keep in mind that you can be admitted into Luna Community College via the online admissions process at (<https://pathways.luna.edu/ICS/Admissions>). After you are admitted into Luna Community College, a student should start by creating their Luna student account at the following link (https://luna.edu/create\_student\_account/).

From there, a student should go to Pathway's link (<https://pathways.luna.edu>) and complete the four registration steps (clearance to register, contact your advisor, register for classes and complete registration).
