The final construction meeting for the Building Trades project was held in August to finalize all remaining details. Mark Sanchez, Cross Connection Project Superintendent, directed the meeting and informed everyone of the status of completion.

Everyone present at the meeting was pleased to know that the Building Technologies department will be completed in September for student use. The students will now be able to utilize the Electrical Lab for the electrical wiring program which will allow this program to earn national accreditation which will improve student learning potential.

Faculty Training in Blackboard Continues

On August 19, 2015, Larry Paiz conducted a Blackboard training for new and seasoned faculty for the Fall 2015 semester. Many new techniques and important information was presented to everyone to include in their syllabi.

Luna Community College recently transitioned from WIMBA to Blackboard Collaborate. Blackboard Collaborate is not only being utilized by conventional classes but also the web enhanced and hybrid courses.
