On December 19, 2015, David Muniz, EMT Instructor, provided Emergency Medical Technician training. David will be teaching the Emergency Medical Technician Basic Program course Spring 2016.

The EMT course is designed to instruct students with no previous medical training to the level of Emergency Medical Technician. After successful completion of the program, the student will be capable of performing the functions proscribed by the US Department of Transportation (DOT) Emergency Medical Technician - Basic curriculum. The EMS certification level is the foundation level for all emergency medical responders.
