

Hello TEAS students,

We are going to be adding Proctorio to our ATI TEAS testing to allow for online testing. This is a proctoring service that records you while you are taking the ATI TEAS exam. I am including a link for a video that everyone should watch prior to testing and a link to the document with instructions to follow when setting up to take an exam. Please make sure you review both items. ATI is supposed to be adding a practice assessment so that you and I will be able to have a practice run prior to taking the ATI TEAS exam online.

You will be required to use a laptop with Google Chrome as your browser with a good internet connection. You will also need to have a working webcam and microphone with your laptop and a valid ID to take the exam.
